Dear Incoming Service Member and Family,

Welcome to Naval Construction Training Center! My name is Erin Anderson and I am the ombudsman that will assist your family at your time here at NCTC.

Ombudsmen are designated by the command to serve as communication links between the commanding officer and command family members, as well as trained information and referral specialists. I am your advocate ready to support, direct, and empower you with all of the resources available. Please be assured that as an ombudsman I follow the guidelines of confidentiality as required by the Navy Family Ombudsman Program.

As directed by Navy Policy I am required to report the following items to the Commanding Officer:

1. All suspected child abuse and neglect
2. Alleged domestic abuse
3. Suspected and/or potential homicides, violence, or life endangering situations
4. All suspected and/or potential suicide risks
5. All alleged sexual assaults

If you find that you need my assistance with anything you may contact me via phone or e-mail. I am available 24 hours a day for emergencies. My contact information is included below.

Once again, I look forward to meeting you at the command orientation and/or command functions. Please don't hesitate to contact me if you need anything.

Sincerely,

Erin Anderson
