Encl: (1) Sample Annual Report of Compliance

1. Purpose. To designate a Naval Education and Training Command (NETC) Executive Agent for Navy Personnel Recovery (PR), Code of Conduct (CoC), and Survival, Evasion, Resistance, and Escape (SERE) matters; and per reference (a), to designate a Navy CoC SERE curriculum model manager and to establish the Navy SERE Psychology Program and the NETC Operational Debriefing Program (ODP). The Navy SERE Psychology Program addresses psychological oversight of SERE training and operational psychological reintegration support. The NETC ODP addresses operational reintegration support. This instruction provides organization and authority to meet short-notice tasking from the Navy Office of Primary Responsibility (OPR) for PR and Reintegration. This instruction is a complete revision in response to updates to references (a) through (d).

2. Cancellation. NETCINST 1000.1B.

3. Background. Reference (a) tasks NETC to designate a Navy CoC SERE curriculum model manager and assigns several responsibilities including coordinating CoC SERE training with fleet entities; developing, maintaining, and reviewing CoC SERE training; and establishing and maintaining programs to support Navy PR and Reintegration. Reference (a) also designates the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (OPNAV N1) as the Navy's OPR for reintegration, with authority to liaise directly with NETC for Navy reintegration tasks.

4. Responsibilities. Commanding Officer (CO), Center for Security Forces (CENSECFOR) is designated NETC's Executive Agent for PR/CoC/SERE matters including the Navy SERE Psychology Program and the NETC ODP. a. Pursuant to reference (a) and this instruction, CENSECFOR shall:

(1) Perform as the NETC representative at any PR/CoC/SERE O-6 level working groups.

(2) Conduct annual internal reviews of CENSECFOR CoC SERE training and provide the status to NETC via the January CENSECFOR Annual Report. It is acceptable to assess CoC SERE training at only one of the two CENSECFOR CoC SERE training locations as long as no one training location goes more than 2 years without a review. A Joint Personnel Recovery Agency (JPRA) Tri-Annual Site Assessment or Site Assist Visit can serve as the internal review.

(3) Provide Corporate enterprise Training Activity Resource Systems support for Level A, B, and C SERE courses under CENSECFOR cognizance. For JPRA delivered SERE courses mapped to CENSECFOR, provide support to Commander, U.S. Fleet Forces Command (USFFC) and Commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet by spreading the quotas received from JPRA and provide the capability to record their completion data.

CENSECFOR is responsible for ensuring the "fly-away kit" is current to accomplish the reintegration mission and for maintaining a master inventory of equipment.

(8) Provide the SERE Psychology Program Coordinator and the ODP Coordinator reasonably proximate access to a Secret Internet Protocol Router Network (SIPRNET) or Secure Terminal Equipment (STE) to allow rapid secure communications regarding PR events and exercises. Access to SIPRNET or STE will be accomplished using devices already connected and not part of the "fly-away kit" computing capabilities (e.g., laptop or desktop workstation).

(9) Designate a High and Moderate Risk of Isolation (HRI/MRI) briefing manager that will provide requisite briefings/training to deploying Navy personnel per Combatant Commands, Navy Component Commands, and unit commanders' requirements.

(10) Coordinate with OPNAV N314, OPNAV N9, USFFC, and JPRA for CoC, SERE, and HRI/MRI training matters.
