(2) NSTC CCIR E-mail Format
(3) NSTC CCIR Reference Terms

1. Purpose. To prescribe policy, responsibility, and guidance for Commander's Critical Information Requirements (CCIR) reporting to Naval Service Training Command (NSTC) domain on events requiring notification to Commander, Naval Service Training Command (CNSTC) and Headquarters (HQ) staff leadership. This will ensure clarity in reporting and that commands are supported up echelon. The reporting requirements herein are not all-inclusive; if something is not captured, and a subordinate command thinks CNSTC should know, make the report.

2. Cancellation. NSTCINST5214.1A

3. Background.

a. Reference (a) establishes the requirement to operate a Navy event notification system, and references (b) and (c) delineate specific safety-related event reporting requirements, and reference (d) is Naval Education and Training Command's (NETC) CCIR instruction. Reference (e) delineates and establishes the reporting requirement for the Insider Threat Program. Reference (f) is ASN (M&RA) Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps Instructor Adult Sexual Misconduct Policy.

3 Jan 2025

References (g) and (h) are the Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps Programs and the Regulations for Officer Development, respectively, which define participation in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) Program. Reference (h) also establishes the definition of "midshipman candidate". References (i) and (j) are the Secretary of the Navy and Navy Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Procedures which establish reporting requirements. Reference (k) is NAVADMIN 329/20, "Culture of Excellence Simplify and Align", which removes the requirement for the Navy Sexual Assault SAPR first flag reports but maintain other Immediate Superiors in Command (ISICs) reporting requirements and responsibilities.

b. NSTC is required to provide situational awareness reporting to Echelon (ECH) II leadership regarding events within the NSTC domain. This requires timely and comprehensive notification by ECH IV commands. For the purposes of critical reporting, ECH IV includes: Recruit Training Command (RTC), Officer Training Command (OTC), Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps (NROTC) Units, Departments of Naval Science at Maritime Academies, and Navy Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (NJROTC) Units.

c. Commanding Officers (CO), Officers-in-Charge (OIC), Senior Naval Science Instructors (SNSI), and NSTC Department Directors/Special Assistants (DD/SA) will comply with NSTC CCIR guidance. If circumstances require a report to other organizations, then NSTC should receive the same report via courtesy copy email, as an added INFO recipient on a Naval Message, etc.

d. This instruction clarifies what meets the reporting criteria. COs and OICs will carefully delineate NSTC CCIRs within their own CCIR instruction as appropriate. COs, OICs, NSTC DD/SAs, and Command Duty Officers (CDO) at every echelon will familiarize themselves with these reporting requirements to ensure the right information is appropriately disseminated.

e. Enclosures (1) through (3), provide a listing of NSTC CCIRs, the CCIR report format, and CCIR descriptions, respectively.

f. Where doubt exists as to whether an incident meets reporting definitions and criteria, as outlined in enclosure (3), the event will be reported to the chain of command. When doubt exists as to the appropriate categorization of an event, report the event as the higher priority category (CAT).

g. The submission of an Operational Report (OPREP)-3 message does not negate the requirement for submission of a CCIR. The OPREP-3 message is seen by numerous commands outside of CNETC, so it is typically kept very general in nature. The CCIR, however, is internal to NSTC and should precede the OPREP-3 and provide additional information and fidelity in order to facilitate follow-on reporting to higher authority. Too much information can never provide in a CCIR. When providing information, ensure the legal status of all persons reported on is understood and privacy act requirements and personally identifiable information handling requirements are strictly followed.

4. Responsibilities.

a. COs, OICs, NSTC DD/SAs, and leaders at all levels will track and report NSTC CCIRs.

b. NSTC Chief of Staff (CoS) and NSTC Senior Watch Officer will:

(1) Conduct an annual review and update of this instruction, as required.

(2) Ensure COs are properly trained in the reporting guidance specified in this instruction, and in the use of all available reporting tools.

c. COs, OICs, and NSTC DD/SAs will:

(1) Report all CCIR categories listed in enclosure (1).

(2) Monitor National and local news for situational awareness and to ensure commands are not negatively impacted. If in doubt, provide a draft CCIR to CoS to be sent at CoS' discretion.

(3) CCIRs of a sensitive nature should be passed directly to the CoS (and Director of Officer Development or Director of Citizenship Development as appropriate), instead of the mass CCIR distribution list. This includes reports involving, for instance, law enforcement sensitive information or that involve information which could identify a specific person for whom a reasonable expectation of privacy in relationship to the event applies, especially those persons with minimal legal linkage to the U.S Department of Defense (e.g. NJROTC cadets, College Program Basic NROTC MIDN, unaffiliated college students enrolled in Naval Science courses, NROTC designated applicants and midshipmen candidates, etc).

5. Exceptions.

a. In accordance with reference (g) and (h), there are a variety of types of students associated with NROTC Units. The type of student influences whether CCIR reporting is required, and if required, what level of detail is appropriate. If in doubt, provide a draft CCIR to CoS to be sent at CoS' discretion.

(1) Scholarship Midshipmen (MIDN) are postsecondary students who are enrolled in the NROTC Program and who have been selected, offered, and activated a Navy, Marine, or Navy Nurse scholarship. These students enlist in the Navy or Marine Corps Reserve at the time of scholarship activation. During periods of advanced (summer cruise) training, they are in an active-duty status.

(2) College Program MIDN are postsecondary students who are enrolled in the NROTC Program who wish to serve as commissioned officers but have not been awarded any form of an NROTC scholarship. There are two types of College Program MIDN.

(a) College Program Basic MIDN are postsecondary students, normally with more than two years of college coursework remaining. They have not enlisted in the Naval Reserve. College Program Basic participants have the status of civilian, unless they came to the college program having already enlisted in the Naval Reserve.

(b) College Program Advanced Standing MIDN are postsecondary students in their final two years of college coursework who have been selected for Advanced Standing by NSTC or Marine Corps Recruiting Command (MCRC) and have signed the Advanced Standing Agreement. These students enlist in the Navy or Marine Corps Reserve at the time they begin Advance Standing. During periods of advanced (summer cruise) training, they are in an active-duty status.

(3) Naval Science Students are civilian postsecondary students enrolled through the postsecondary institution's course registration process in Naval Science courses, but not enrolled in NROTC – they are civilian students enrolled in a course catalog-listed undergraduate class with no legal relation to the Navy on the basis of their class participation and full expectations of privacy.

(4) Seaman to Admiral (STA-21) Officer Candidates (OCs) are active duty enlisted Sailors participating in the STA-21 enlisted commissioning program assigned to NROTC Units (all CCIR reporting requirements that regularly apply to active-duty Navy Sailors apply to STA-21 OCs).

(5) Marine Corps Enlisted Commissioning Education Program (MECEP) participants are active duty enlisted Marines participating in the MECEP assigned to NROTC Units (all CCIR reporting requirements that regularly apply to active-duty Marines apply to MECEP participants).

(6) Strategic Sealift Midshipmen Program (SSMP) MIDN are postsecondary students at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy (USMMA) and six state maritime academies participating in an education and training program leading to a U.S. Navy Reserve Officer commission as a Strategic Sealift Officer (SSO). Some SSMP MIDN will have enlisted in the U.S. Navy Reserve (those attending USMMA and those receiving Student Incentive Payments from the Maritime Administration) and some will not have.

(7) Duty Under Instruction Students (DUINS) Navy active-duty Sailors enrolled as graduate students in local institutions of higher learning, administratively assigned to NROTC Units, but not participating in the NROTC program (all CCIR reporting requirements that regularly apply to active-duty Navy Sailors apply to DUINS students).

(8) NROTC Preparatory Program (NPP) students are enrolled in a preparatory program leading to future selection for an NROTC four-year scholarship at select institutions. NPP students have the status of civilians while participating in the program.

(9) Broadened Opportunity for Officer Selection and Training (BOOST) 2.0 students are enrolled in a preparatory year at the Naval Academy Preparatory School (NAPS) leading to activation of an NROTC four-year scholarship and are enlisted in the Navy during their BOOST 2.0 year (all CCIR reporting requirements that regularly apply to active-duty Navy Sailors apply to BOOST 2.0 participants).

(10) MIDN Candidates are most often civilian designated applicants attending New Student Introduction (NSI) with status specifically covered under reference (h). A small number of Scholarship MIDN, College Program Basic MIDN, and College Program Advanced Standing MIDN may also attend NSI and will be referred to as “MIDN Candidates” throughout NSI. The status of Scholarship MIDN, College Program Basic MIDN, and College Program Advanced Standing MIDN should take precedence for purposes of CCIR reporting.

b. In all cases, when students associated with NROTC are on active duty and/or participating in Navy or Marine Corps summer training, CCIR reporting for all personnel incidents is required.

c. CCIR reporting for SSMP MIDN enlisted in the U.S. Navy Reserve, Scholarship MIDN, and College Program Advanced Standing MIDN (all MIDN who are legally enlisted in the Navy Reserve) is only required for the following personnel incidents when the MIDN is not on active duty unless the incident is of a variety that is likely to result in negative press coverage reflecting on the Navy and/or Marine Corps, in which case a CCIR (and OPREP reporting) would be required – such reporting should focus on the nature of the incident more so than the identity of those involved:

(1) Any death or critical injury.

(2) Any sexual misconduct when both the victim and alleged offender are affiliated with the NROTC Unit or Department of Naval Science.

(3) For reports involving incidents (listed above) occurring during times when the SSMP MIDN enlisted in the U.S. Navy Reserve, Scholarship MIDN, and College Program Advanced Standing MIDN was not on active duty, discretion should be exercised before attempting to gain information not previously disclosed or publicly available and NSTC Judge Advocate General should be consulted if additional inquiry to obtain information beyond that which is readily or publicly available appears necessary to satisfy reporting requirements.

d. CCIR reporting for College Program Basic MIDN, SSMP MIDN not enlisted in the U.S. Navy Reserve, MIDN Candidates, Naval Science Students, and NPP Students is only required for incidents of death or critical injuries occurring during the course of NROTC training events, NROTC functions, and/or Naval Science courses unless the incident is of a variety that is likely to result in negative press coverage reflecting on the Navy and/or Marine Corps, in which case a CCIR (and OPREP reporting) would be required such reporting should focus on the nature of the incident more so than the identity of those involved.

For incidents of death or critical injuries involving College Program Basic MIDN, SSMP MIDN not enlisted in the U.S. Navy Reserve, Midshipman Candidates and NPP Students occurring outside NROTC training events, NROTC functions, and/or Naval Science courses, a draft CCIR may, at the Commanding Officer's discretion, be submitted to the CoS and Director of Officer Development; however, discretion should be exercised before attempting to gain information not previously or publicly available and NSTC Judge Advocate General should be consulted if additional inquiry to obtain information beyond that which has been previously disclosed or publicly available appears necessary to fulfill reporting information requirements.

e. NJROTC Senior Naval Science Instructors (SNSI) and Naval Science Instructors (NSI) are employees of the school districts they work for. The CCIR reporting required for SNSIs and NSIs is as follows:

- (1) Any death or critical injury.
- (2) Sexual misconduct involving a Cadet where the school provides information to the Navy.
- (3) Other misconduct where the school informs the Navy.

(4) For reports involving incidents (listed above), discretion should be exercised before attempting to gain information not previously disclosed or publicly available and NSTC Office of General Counsel should be consulted if additional inquiry to obtain information beyond that which is readily or publicly available appears necessary to satisfy reporting requirements.

f. NJROTC Cadets are high school students and not members of the Navy. NJROTC Instructors are civilian employees of individual schools governed by the NSTC Regulations for Citizenship Development. Privacy laws may restrict the information available. The CCIR reporting required for NJROTC is as follows:

- (1) Death or critical injuries to cadets that occur during NJROTC training events and functions or while the Cadet is in uniform.
- (2) Other cadet or instructor misconduct where the school informs the Navy and there is known media interest that could generate significant embarrassment to the Navy.

(3) Per reference (e) or subsequent policies, allegations of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or other abusive misconduct by an adult, including all Title IX policy violations in the NJROTC program. (Title IX requires a school to respond whenever an employee in a K-12 school has notice of sexual harassment against a student or other minor.)

(4) For reports involving incidents (listed above), discretion should be exercised before attempting to gain information not previously disclosed or publicly available and NSTC Judge Advocate General should be consulted if additional inquiry to obtain information beyond that which is readily or publicly available appears necessary to satisfy reporting requirements.
