How do I get assigned an NSI Iteration?

There are 3 NSI Iterations you can be assigned to, several factors go into determining your iteration. Please express any scheduling concerns to your NROTC unit at the university. The unit will let the Candidate Midshipmen Guidance Office (CMGO) know and the CMGO will attempt to accommodate you. Expect an NSI Iteration Assignment at the earliest mid-April.

Medical Records: A copy of your medical records is NOT required with your NSI package. However, do not forget to provide a copy of your immunization record. It does not have to be placed in a particular format, a copy in whatever format it's in is acceptable.

Changing Schools: School changes will be processed until 15 April. The NROTC unit at your assigned school will process your NSI travel. After you complete NSI you may once again request school changes. You must include an acceptance letter from your new university with your college placement change request.

I am currently waiting to see if I will be accepted into the Naval Academy. Should I still send in the needed documents for NSI or should those documents only be sent if I am 100% sure that I am doing NROTC? It would be best to begin the NSI process now. Your scholarship is not activated until you complete NSI and go to your NROTC unit.

If I have decided to attend the Naval Academy or changed my mind and I am not accepting an NROTC scholarship, who needs to be notified? The CMGO, Placement Office, and the NROTC unit at the university you applied to.

Medical Waiver: Scholarship selectees who have been medically disqualified and not granted a waiver or if they are pending a waiver for certain medical conditions (as determined by NSTC Medical) will not be allowed to attend NSI.

These students may report to their assigned NROTC units in the fall if still pending or appealing a medical waiver. If they become medically qualified, they can request an NSI postponement to activate their scholarship and will be scheduled to attend NSI next summer.
