International Training Command Recognizes Exceptional Staff

PENSACOLA, Fla. – Military and civilian members of the Naval Education and Training Security Assistance Field Activity (NETSAFA) were recognized for their outstanding work during a Captain's Call Aug 21.

"We have a talented blend of military and civilian staff members," said Capt. Doug Heady, NETSAFA commanding officer. "It is an honor to recognize the efforts of this can do team. The work they do is integral to the success of our maritime relationships with partner nations."

Lt. Cmdr. Shelline Floyd, Ship Transfer officer and Dennis Carman, Central Command (CENTCOM) country program manager (CPM) both received level I certifications in International Affairs. Trena Bartley, Financial Management analyst, Tim Durst, European Command (EUCOM) CPM and Jim Ross, Pacific Command (PACOM) CPM, received level II certifications in International Affairs (IA). All employees identified as members of the International Affairs workforce are encouraged to participate in the certification and career development program developed by the Department of the Navy International Programs Office in Washington, DC. Participants must meet mandatory standards of education, training and experience to achieve certifications. Level III is the highest level for this certification.

During a recent Naval Education and Training Commands (NETC) Inspector General area visit, 25 processes were reviewed for NETSAFA. As a result of that review, five process owners: Mike Williams, Supervisory Support Service specialist; Dave Neeper, Information Assurance manager; Gary Brinkmeier, Supply specialist; Carlotta Majewski, Quota Control officer; and Jefferey Harrison, Contract specialist, all received accolades for their standout results.

Gordon Lawry, PACOM CPM, Susanne Stewart, Field Studies program manager, Mike Hill, CENTCOM CPM, Bryan McKernan, Cost analyst, Marsha Busch, Financial management analyst, and Naomi Holliday, Foreign Military Training specialist were recognized for their dedication, technical expertise and expert judgment and uncommon courtesy in interactions with other stakeholders in the successful execution of security assistance programs.

Government service awards were presented to Marsha Busch for 35 years of service and Gordon Lawry for 10 years of service.

Dennis Carman and Sue Priest, Supervisor pseudo cases and grant programs, were also recognized for recent promotions.

NETSAFA is the U.S. Navy's agent for international education and training. NETSAFA coordinate training support to international governments and international organizations. As a field activity of the Naval Education and Training Command (NETC), the command serves as a focal point for all security assistance training program issues, coordination and advice within the U.S. Navy.
